

Widow of State Officer Now a Sheriff

SALEM, Ark. (AP)—The 37-year-old widow of a former state policeman will take office Jan. 1 as Fulton County sheriff.

Mrs. Lucille Brooks Wait, mother of five, was the post in Tuesday's general election over independent Ivan Elliott. She polled 1,087 votes; Elliott 763 in the county's 20 precincts.

Mrs. Wait entered the race after her husband, who had won Democratic nomination in the party primary, died suddenly. The county committee declared her the party nominee.

The new sheriff is expected to appoint a male chief deputy who will assume the law enforcement duties of the office.

On at least two other occasions Arkansas has elected a woman sheriff, once to a full term as in the case of Mrs. Wait.

Mrs. Sam Abernathy of Ouachita County won a 1944 election when her husband was unable to seek a second term because of illness. Mrs. Paul J. Clark of Grant County was appointed in a 1958 special election to fill the unexpired term of her deceased husband.

Women frequently have received gubernatorial appointments to complete their husbands' terms.

YOUNG RAILROADER, OLD ENGINE—Young Bryan Bryant of Brentwood, Pa., uses a bit of spit and shine on the headlight of this model of an 1865 steam locomotive. Model was exhibited in Pittsburgh. Push-button railroading equipment abandoned but Bryant passed it all up for the old-timer. Exhibit was sponsored by a local unit of the Eastern Railroad Presidents Conference.

Newsman Get Audience With New Pope

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII received some 600 representatives of the world press in a jovial special audience today and urged them to write truthfully.

The Pope chuckled as he commented on reporters' efforts to pry into the secrets of the conclave that elected him the 262nd pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church Oct. 8.

"The efforts of the press have been formidable; but the silence (of the conclave) has been even better," said the 76-year-old pontiff.

The newsmen laughed with him at that.

Seated on the throne in the Vatican's Clementine Hall, Pope John spoke in rapid French, without notes, and with considerably less formality than his predecessor, Pope Pius XII, used in his audiences for the press. Frequently he looked up from the microphone and smiled broadly at his listeners.

"I am still a novice at this job of universal fatherhood," he said, using the familiar first person singular instead of the "we" popes normally use.

"I will confess to you," he continued with a smile, "that reading the newspapers, I even find it agreeable to read all those stories about myself. . . and those allegedly revealing the secrets of the conclave put me in a truly good mood for the entire day."

The Pope criticized articles which "can be construed as advice to us on how to run things. You must remember that we stick to the traditions and rules of the Church."

The Pope said he hoped his listeners would not feel insulted at his urging them to report truthfully.

"This," he said, "was intended as a fatherly—or even better—as brotherly advice aimed at helping you in your work."

The Pope concluded the audience by giving his blessing to the newsmen.

Credits Faubus With Election of Alford

By JOHN HASLAM

United Press International
LITTLE ROCK (UPI)—How did the write-in campaign of Dr. Dale Alford, a political neophyte, succeed in ousting an established eight-term congressman like Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) in Tuesday's general election?

That was the question on the minds of thousands of race-conscious Southerners today.

Was it Alford's outspoken sentiment against integration?

Was it the fact support he got from Gov. Orval Faubus?

The upset victory, as shocking as Faubus' own overwhelming summer nomination to an almost unprecedented third term, was explained to their own satisfaction to most of those close to the scene.

Jimmy Karam, a Little Rock haberdasher and personal friend of Faubus, said Alford's success was due to 60 per cent Faubus backing and 40 per cent to his segregation stand.

Only Outspoken Segregationist Alford, a 42-year-old eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, is the only outspokenly segregationist member of the Little Rock School Board.

In his campaign of only eight days, Alford said he wanted to help "our great governor" find a solution to keep Southern traditions.

"That's what did it," Karam said. He said the victory was "fabulous and unheard of."

"It was a victory for states' rights and the governor's stand," Karam said. "The people spoke their backs of Faubus, first in re-electing him this summer, and second in voting to keep the Little Rock schools closed rather than to see them integrated," Karam said.

"Alford's election was a ratification of their earlier backing of Faubus."

Faubus never came right out and endorsed Alford. He always told newsmen he does not vote in the central Arkansas Fifth Congressional district. But Faubus' former aide, Claude Carpenter Jr., quit his state job to manage Alford's campaign.

Stand Highly Important Carpenter thought Alford's segregation stand was "highly important."

"I think the people resent federal encroachment on states' rights, and I think this was just an outward show of that resentment," Carpenter said.

Was the governor's implied endorsement a factor?

"You can't tell how important it was," Carpenter said. "There is no way to measure. I think my going with Dr. Alford showed the people the governor was not particularly displeased with the action Alford had taken."

A personal friend of Hays' felt the write-in campaign's success culminated a sentiment that had been mounting for years against Hays' "soft attitude" toward labor, taxation and the racial problem.

Parole Denied a Child Slaver

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Pardon and Parole Board yesterday refused to grant a parole to Mrs. Elmer Linda Head, convicted in Prairie County in 1953 for slaying her 5-year-old foster daughter.

The board did grant paroles to 39 convicts. Eleven others were recommended for executive clemency.

Mrs. Head is serving a 12-year sentence.

Bear Went Go to an Individual

MEMPHIS (AP)—The director of Overton Park Zoo here says a bear caught in a residential neighborhood last week will never be handed over to a private individual.

Raymond F. Gray was commenting on reports that circulated throughout Memphis yesterday. The reports said the zoo would turn the bear over to anyone who wanted it.

No one knows where the bear came from.

"I would not, even if I had authority to sell the bear, sell it to any other than a recognized place that could take care of the bear as well or better than the zoo," Gray declared firmly.

He added: "I would rather see the animal destroyed than let it be put in a small cage, or tied up in front of a hot dog stand or some roadside zoo."

Gray was irked at the idea the bear might be "commercialized and stuck in some little dark hole."

He thinks the proper thing would be to get the animal back to the woods it may have come from.

Gray believes the bear is wild. If no one claims the bear, he said, Gray plans to ask the Tennessee Fish & Wildlife Commission to transport it to a bear preserve such as Great Smokies National Park.

"And he most certainly could take care of himself in the wild. He has a nasty disposition," the director added.

Blytheville Police Pension Passes

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Blytheville residents have voted nearly four to one in favor of a pension plan for the Blytheville Police Department.

Final returns from Tuesday's general election showed the plan was approved 2,073 to 530.

Graham Parlow, the 26-year-old Blytheville attorney and son of Circuit Judge H. G. Parlow, was elected city attorney. Parlow defeated incumbent Elbert Johnson, who was seeking a fourth term.

Man to Die for Fatal Shooting

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas penitentiary trustee Frank William Nail, 25, yesterday was formally sentenced to death in the state electric chair for the fatal shooting of a fellow prisoner.

Circuit Judge Henry W. Smith set Dec. 12 as the execution date. Nail's court-appointed attorneys said the case would be appealed to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Nail was convicted last week of first degree murder for the death of James Montgomery, also a trustee, at Tucker Prison Farm last June. A jury fixed his punishment at death.

Both the prosecution charged that Nail shot down the unarmed Montgomery. The prosecution charged that Nail shot down the unarmed Montgomery.

McClellan Says Vote Is Faith

MEMPHIS (AP)—Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark.) said yesterday the decisive Senate and House majorities won by the Democrats in Tuesday's voting are "an overwhelming confirmation of the people's faith in the Democratic Party."

But the victory places a heavy responsibility on the party, the Arkansas senator added.

He listed these issues as "the most vital that confront us."

1. Instability in America's foreign affairs.

2. Lack of integrity in labor-management relations.

3. Instability in the nation's financial policies.

4. Instability of the Supreme Court.

DOROTHY DIX

Get the Facts, Ma'am, Before Telling Tales

Dear Dorothy Dix:
My only daughter is married to a traveling salesman. I have learned of his horror, that he sees girls while he is on trips. My daughter does not suspect such a thing and trust him completely. She is a high type person, loyal and devoted to her husband and children. Do you think I should reveal this knowledge I have to my son-in-law? I feel it would be better if he got work close to home. Should I suggest this to him? I am deeply resentful of his unfaithfulness to my wonderful daughter. — Maggie T.

Dear Maggie! Of just such material is the legend of the interfering mother-in-law made. In the first place, dear lady, you have "learned" (how or through whom you do not say) that he "sees girls." There is certainly nothing exceptional today in any business-man's seeing girls, taking them to lunch, buying them coffee, even taking them out for occasional dinners. It is most certainly nothing for you to push the panic button about.

Even if your son-in-law went out with girls more than was necessary in the course of business, it is doubtful if you'd be the one to stir up a row about it. If you have had a close and warm relationship with your son-in-law, you could speak to him. If there has ever been friction between you, you'd be forever stamped as "that meddling little old woman" who recommends that you get some definite information before calling out the militia. You're probably upset over trifles. I hope so.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I'm a very unhappy bride of 17. Gil and I fell in love a year ago and though he claimed he was true to me, I know he wasn't. Every time I caught him out with someone else, he begged me to take him back and I did. He coaxed me into a secret marriage three months ago and ever since then he hasn't been faithful. He lives home and so do I. This arrangement satisfies him but I think we should tell everyone we're married so we can be together. — Joyce.

Dear Joyce: You sure believe in compound mistakes. Gil's behavior left no uncertainty about his unwillingness to be a faithful sweet heart. How could you expect him to be a loyal husband? Tell your folks about the marriage and let them guide you from there.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I'm 16 and staying with my married sister. She doesn't want me. In fact, no one does. My father is dead, my mother didn't want me and neither of my sisters does. And I don't have dates. I'm fairly pretty but the only boys around here are fast. Should I go out with these boys or stay home and be lonely? I hope you can read this letter. I didn't go to school much. — B. T.

Dear B. T.: At present I think you have a greater problem than the two you wrote about. It's quite evident from your letter that you didn't have much schooling and I strongly recommend that you get it, now. You probably work days, but investigate the night schools in your community. With an improvement in your writing, you can progress to a business course, and in another two years, will be able to take care of yourself and get away from your sister. At night school, too, you'll find boys who are industrious and ambitious. They won't have time for much dating but will offer rewarding friendships.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I like my brother's best friend but he doesn't care about girls (including me). My mother says I'm doing wrong by trying to get him interested in me. Is she right? And is it true that a boy dislikes girl when he finds out she likes him? — Troubled Lee.

Dear Lee: When a girl makes it apparent that she's interested in a certain boy, he doesn't exactly dislike her but he sure is afraid of her. Your brother's friend isn't ready for dating yet and will resist any attempt to force him into it. If you really want him, wait. He'll be around for quite some time.

by the Bolshoi Ballet group of Moscow when the Rank Organization presentation of "The Bolshoi Ballet" with prima ballerina Galina Ulanova, will have its first public performance on Nov. 18 at the Saenger Theater.

Recognized by critics throughout the world as a hallmark by which all other groups must be judged, the Bolshoi Ballet's performance last year in London has been recorded on Eastman color film and in wide-screen just as performed at the Covent Garden for Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II.

"The Bolshoi Ballet" film is unique. It brings to the screen in a manner that has never before been attempted the breath-taking accomplishments of one of the greatest companies in the world. It was filmed on the stage of the Royal Opera House Covent Garden in London.

Ulanova dances the full-length classic "Ciselle" in the film which also has six other ballet divertissements typical of the Russian repertory.

Networks May Make Brags on Election

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—All three networks will be claiming victories over each other today. But on the basis of late returns, here is the straight election night dope:

1. At NBC-TV, staffers consumed 45 gallons of coffee, 1,100 sandwiches, 12 loaves of bread, 15 gallons of potato salad, 8 gallons of baked beans and 48 cherry apples, pumpkin and coconut custard pies.

2. At CBS-TV, staffers waded into 45 gallons of coffee, 638 sandwiches, 1,000 pieces of pastry and 3 bagels. It was suggested that some partisan might have sneaked the bagels in from the Rockefeller-Harriman campaign.

3. At ABC-TV, the assembled horde dined on 57 gallons of coffee, 1,000 assorted sandwiches and 500 pieces of baked goods including cheesecakes, brownies and chocolate layers, all of which were supplied by the sponsor who, incidentally, makes cheesecakes, brownies and chocolate layers.

As I see it, this gives NBC-TV the victory in sandwiches, baked beans, potato salad and peach, apple, cherry and coconut custard pies. ABC-TV clearly gets the win in coffee and cheesecake and brownies. And CBS-TV came up with a clear lead in pastry as well as bagels, although the latter victory is a hollow one.

Aside from gustatory matters, these other things happened on TV. All three networks trotted out

News Briefs

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—A 52-year-old Negro was killed yesterday when a log fell from the top of a loaded logging truck on a rural road five miles south of Strong. The victim was Sam Moses of the Three Creeks community, 15 miles south of here.

BERRYVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A log crushed a 52-year-old Houston, Ark., construction worker to death yesterday at a clearing project at Table Rock Lake in Missouri, 16 miles north of here. The victim was G. E. Draper, who was working as a cable man. Sheriff Tommy Walker of Stone County, Mo., said Draper suffered a broken neck.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Noted historian Dr. Will Durant, 73 years old today, is ill with a serious infection of undetermined nature.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Artillery dueling resumed today in the offshore war after a 27-hour lull. Red Chinese guns opened up on the Quemoy's before dawn. Nationalist batteries returned the fire. There were signs of continuing Red buildup of mainland positions opposite both Quemoy and Matsu, 160 miles north.

awesome mechanical monsters with names like UNIVAC, RAMAC, and UEDPS, but at one network, NBC-TV, two newsmen could be spotted working in green eye shades. CBS-TV's Doug Edwards reported over the air that a lady in Michigan had accused the network of placing a man inside UNIVAC to write out all those fancy predictions.

The first prediction of UNIVAC, the wizard of odds, took place at 6:24 p.m. e.s.t. when it gave 100-1 odds that the Democrats would sweep both houses. NBC-TV's RAMAC made its first prognostication at 2:22 p.m. when it said the new House would have 271 Democrats around 9:40 p.m.

ABC-TV's electronic brain said there would be 290 Democrats in the House and 62 in the Senate. Bo-Bo Department: ABC-TV's John Daly referred to the Midwest as the "Midwest" and later apologized. A local CBS-TV announcer referred to Democrat Chester Bowles as a Republican and later apologized. David Brinkley of NBC-TV got an indignant call about classifying West Virginia with the southern bloc and he apologized. ABC-TV's John Vandercreek called the network's electronic computer a "commuter," but he didn't apologize—I guess he figured the machine wasn't listening.

TELEPHONE TALK

By Vance Smiley, Wire Chief, Hope, Ark.

WOULD YOU HELP US?

Would you like to help the Hope telephone people cut down on billing errors? This can be done by giving the operator your complete number when placing a long distance call.

The proper way to place a long distance call is to give the operator:

1. Called place
2. Called number
3. Called party with whom you wish to speak (if the call is person to person)
4. Your complete number

The operators have been instructed to use the phrase, "May I have your complete number, please?" Hope takes calls from six other towns besides Hope that have prefixes to the telephone number. It is very easy for the operator to put the wrong prefix on a number if she is not given the complete prefix and number. We take from 1400 to 1500 calls a day, so you see how easily someone else could be billed the call in another town.

We would like to thank the ones that have already begun giving their complete number when placing a long distance call.

A NEW FAMILY PLAN

For some time now, railroads and airlines have been telling people about "Family Plans". Well, I recently heard of an older couple who thought up their own "Family Plan" for get-togethers with married children living out of town.

On the first Sunday of the month, Bill, the oldest son, calls and puts the whole family on the line. On the second Sunday, it's the middle boy, Ralph. Jane, the only girl, calls on the third Sunday. On the fourth Sunday, it's Tom's turn. He's the youngest, and just married.

I didn't learn what happens when a month has five Sundays, but I know that these Sunday calls turn a lonely day into a happy one for the folks back home.

"WHAT FLAVORS DO YOU HAVE?"

I suppose that's a question heard many times a day by the girl behind the drug store ice cream counter. But recently I heard of a switch on that question. A little girl stopped one of our telephone installers as he was getting out of his truck.

"What flavors do you have?" she asked.

It seems that her aunt has a green telephone, and the little girl was just wondering how many different colors telephones came in. When the telephone man told her the nine colors, she thought she would like blue best of all.

If her mother calls us — and we hope she does — we'll tell her, too, about telephones in ivory, moss green, cherry red, white-pastel yellow, light gray, beige and rose pink.

But I'll bet she'll order the aqua blue telephone. After all, it's her daughter's favorite color.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Decision in Nebraska Is Undecided

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unless their shaky margin in Nebraska comes unstuck in an absentee ballot count, Democrats will hold 34 of the country's 48 governorships.

Even if Democrat Ralph G. Brooks loses in Nebraska's official canvass, his party has seized possession of more state houses than it has held in 20 years. In 1938 Democrats held 38.

Brooks, a 60-year-old schoolman, may have to wait until the state's Nov. 14 deadline for the tally which tells whether he ousted Republican Gov. Victor E. Anderson in Tuesday's election.

His unofficial margin of 3,282 votes, less than 1 per cent of the total, could be wiped out by the check of around 10,000 mail ballots.

If it holds up, Tuesday's Democratic sweep captured nine Republican-held governorships. The Democrats lost four states to Republicans and stand to show a net gain of five.

In most other states where the voting was close, Democratic margins widened as the late reports rolled in. Oregon went the other way, ousting Democratic Gov. Robert D. Holmes in favor of Republican Mark Hatfield.

But in Wyoming, New Mexico and South Dakota the Democrats finished strong. Democratic upsets gave Joseph J. Hickey the nod over Wyoming's Republican Gov. Milward L. Simpson. John Burroughs won over New Mexico's Republican Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, and Ralph Hersth defeated Republican Phil Saunders in South Dakota.

Summing up, the Democrats elected 25 governors (counting Brooks), the Republicans 8. The Democrats had 9 holdover governors, the Republicans 6. Totals, Democrats 34, Republicans 14.

Big Welcome Planned for Hope Visitors at Conway

From 700 to 1,000 Hope football fans will board a special train here Friday at 3:30 for Conway where the undefeated and undefeated Bobcats will battle with the Wampus Cats who have only one loss on this year's record.

And Conway is making plans to give the Hope fans a great big welcome, according to Joe McGee, Conway. A parade of Hope and Conway students will greet the special train when it pulls into Conway. A parade of Hope and Conway students will be staged with both bands participating. Hope adults will be transported to Hendrix College campus in Conway citizens' cars. It's the plan of the Conway Student Council to have parents to accompany their children to the station and then transport adults to the Hendrix campus.

If the train arrives on time, scheduled for 7 p.m., Hope visitors will be taken to Hilton Lounge on the Hendrix campus for coffee and donuts. Arkansas State Teachers College will furnish coffee. Hendrix will provide donuts and the hostesses.

The Bobcats are rated No. 4 and Conway No. 8 in the state. Although the inter-sectional contest means nothing in district play the prestige of a victory would give either team a lift, possibly improve their rating.

Both teams are well balanced and both should be highly keyed for the contest. It should prove to be a very interesting game.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Here is a fishing report and forecast prepared by the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission:

Lake Ouachita: Black bass fair on live and artificial bait; bream fair on worms.

Norfolk Lake: Black bass fair on live and artificial bait and crabs; crappie fair on artificial bait.

Norfolk Lake: Crappie fair on minnows; bass fair on artificial bait.

Lake Conway: Bass fair on minnows.

Lake Hamilton: Bass fair on artificial bait early and late; crappie fair on minnows; bream good on worms and crickets.

Broyles Fears Porks to Let Off Defensively

PAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Coach Frank Broyles, convinced that his Arkansas Razorbacks have reached an offensive peak, cast a doubtful eye at the Porkers' defense yesterday.

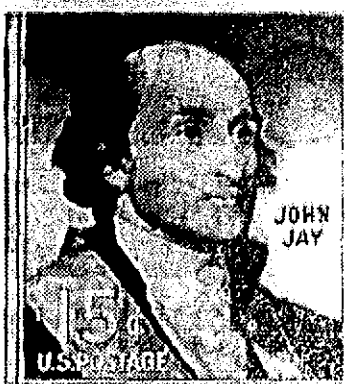

"The T team picked us apart," Broyles said after a short practice session against Hardin-Simmons plays.

Most of the day was spent with linemen working on ground defense and backs concentrating on stopping passes.

The Porker coach said he was satisfied with his team's offense, especially after reviewing statistics of the Texas A&M game.

SWC Prepares for Weekend Contests

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least two Southwest Conference teams tried to stop the upcoming opposition without success yesterday. It caused Coach Jim Myers of Texas A&M and Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas much pain.

The Texas A&M freshmen gave the varsity a fit using Southern Methodist's offense and Myers grumbled that "the score will be 70-0 if we can't stop SMU any better than that. Our defensive drill was terrible."

Freshmen Rodger McFarland and Jim Murphy represented Don Meredith and Lynn Gregory of SMU and they had a field day.

At Dallas Southern Methodist worked against the single wing and particularly the passing of Charley Miltstead and Ed Dudley. No information was given as to success, but since the coaches didn't get peeved the Mustangs must have done all right.

At Fayetteville Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas was defeated because his B team worked the varsity over using Hardin-Simmons' offensive plans. "The B team picked us apart," Broyles yelled. And he also was down in the dumps because influenza took his second team left halfback Freddy Akers.

There were cheering notes from both Rice and Southern Methodist. Both expect to be in the best physical condition of the season.

At Rice preparing to meet mighty Army at Houston Saturday, the only doubtful performer was Jim Stroud, third string center. Jan Schaubel, the injured quarterback, wore pads for the first time since bruising his hip last Friday. Gene Miller, starting left tackle until hurting his knee in the Purdue game, will get to play Saturday.

Buddy Humphrey, Baylor's pressing quarterback, still was doubtful yesterday but he did work out with extra padding for his injured ribs.

At Austin Coach Darrell Royal of Texas said he doubted his leading ground-gainer, Rene Ramirez, would be able to play against Baylor Saturday at Waco. Ramirez has a bruised hip and can't run.

Royal said Baylor's Humphrey spelled trouble for Texas and he also pointed out that no team had been able to stop Baylor fullback Larry Hickman yet. Texas was concentrating on pass defense.

Texas Christian polished up its aerial game for Marquette, who the Frogs meet at Fort Worth Saturday night. Coach Abe Martin was disappointed with his receivers in the game with Baylor last week.

Players and bring about position shifts.

Billy Kyser will be the second team's left halfback if Freddy Akers, suffering from influenza, is unable to play Saturday. Leslie Lelsinger will handle Akers' kicking chores.

Johnny Fields, a sophomore fullback who was plugging for a first-team spot last week, will miss the game because of a torn ligament in his knee.

Also suffering minor injuries are Billy Gilber, Billy Michael, Steve Butler, Barry Switzer, and Jerry Green. All are expected to play, however.

Southerners to Retain Key Chairmanships

By JOE HALL

Democrats will retain the bulk of chairmanships in the new 86th Congress but Southern conservatives probably will find their influence diluted.

With the Democrats sharply increasing their control of both branches in Tuesday's voting, the top committee posts in nearly all cases will remain firmly in the hands of the men who held them in the 85th. In many instances, these men have been chairmen for years.

In the Senate, this means that 9 of the 16 standing committee chairmanships will remain with Southerners. In the House, the South will keep 12 of the 10 posts. The chairmanships go strictly by seniority.

The only change in chairmanships forced by the election in either branch involves the House Interior Committee Rep. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) who headed it in the 85th Congress, was elected to the Senate. Expected to replace him is Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall (D-Colo.).

The election of many more Democrats from the North and West seems certain to cut down the power of the South in the committees, which can make or break legislation.

Particularly will this be true in the Senate, where the Democrats have had only one-vote margins on committees for four years. In such a situation a conservative Southern Democrat often is a swing man; by voting with the Republicans he could help to bottle up or win changes in legislation.

But with the Democrats holding a 62-34 edge in the 1958 Senate, not counting the two seats from Alaska to be filled Nov. 25, their committee margins will increase materially.

In most cases, these will be 10-5 or 9-6 on the 15-member committees. With such a lineup, the vote of one dissenter from party policy will not be too important.

When to Fish as Hunt
SOLAR TABLES
By John Allen Knight

The schedule of Solar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Allen Knight's Solar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Meanwhile the council will continue its series of budget hearings on the basis of current information and make recommendations to the Legislature.

Tight budgets have been the trend and that is expected to continue.

Budget requests were presented yesterday by the Arkansas Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Booneville and the Thomas C. McRae Memorial Sanatorium for Negroes at McRae. No action was taken on either.

The Booneville facility requested $1,740,660 a year, a decrease from this year's $1,744,660. The McRae institution asked for $391,159 for 1959 and $401,550 for 1960, an increase from the current biennium's appropriation of $393,959.

GOPs Do Not Have Voters Confidence

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans had better begin examining themselves.

Their defeat by the Democrats Tuesday for control of Congress—the third time in a row—shows a clear lack of voter confidence in the party.

It shows most distinctly in the sharp choice the voters have made among President Eisenhower, his party and the Democrats.

Eisenhower was elected overwhelmingly in 1952 and 1956. But in the three congressional races since Eisenhower took office, the voters have given the Democrats control of the legislative branch.

Tuesday's beating forces the Republicans to face this gloomy question: "Unless we can somehow regain voter confidence, how can we possibly hope to win the presidential and congressional elections in 1960?"

No Republican in sight, from Eisenhower down seems to have the answer.

Despite all the campaign urging by Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon—some of it pretty shrill—the voters still put their faith in the Democrats to run Congress.

This sometimes gets difficult to understand since both parties are basically conservative except that the Republicans, or many of them, seem even more so.

One conclusion seems fair: That the voters definitely think the Democrats more truly represent their views and interests, are more responsive to their needs, and in these days of vast social changes are more progressive.

That can explain to some extent why the voters elected Eisenhower while defeating his party in Congress, for he has tried to follow a moderately progressive line in his administration.

But neither he nor his party can claim that a majority of congressional Republicans could, or perhaps would want to, be called Eisenhower Republicans.

It seems difficult to think that either Eisenhower or Nixon can give their party more political sex appeal by 1960.

Both men have had six years in which to lead their party down a road that pleased the voters. They couldn't do it.

There's no reason to believe the two men can do better these next two years.

Therefore, the Republicans as a party seem to face this problem:

1. Either change their views to conform more to what appears to be the voters' desires, or—
2. Just wait to see whether the Democrats will make such a mess of things that the voters demand a change. That looks like wishful thinking.

Since Eisenhower has adhered—between election campaigns—pretty much to an above-the-strife political attitude, it can hardly be expected he will try very hard in his last two years to reshape the party.

Nixon has tried different tactics. He's been a very active political partisan. But he may have to concern himself greatly with his own political fortunes these next two years.

The victory of millionaire Nelson Rockefeller in the New York governor's race gave Nixon a sturdy political competitor for the Republican presidential nomination in 1960. The result of this new competition may be a change in Nixon's tactics.

Drys Fail in Two Arkansas Counties

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Attempts to prohibit alcoholic beverage sales in two Arkansas counties have failed in local option elections—in one instance by only seven votes.

In White County, which already permits sale of beer and light wine, the vote Tuesday was 3,760 to 3,701 against complete prohibition.

In Green County, where all liquor sales are local, the vote against county-wide prohibition was 3,440 to 3,180.

President to Hunt Ducks on Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower plans a duck hunting trip in Ohio this weekend on the way to Seattle for a speech Monday at a meeting of Colombo Pact nations.

The White House also announced that in advance of the Seattle talk, the President will be a guest at the Tacoma, Wash., home of his brother Edgar, an attorney. Eisenhower plans to leave Washington by plane at noon Friday and travel to Toledo, Ohio, at the exclusive Cedar Point Club on the Lake Erie shore near Toledo he will be the overnight guest of George M. Humphrey, former secretary of the Treasury. Eisenhower is scheduled to arrive at Toledo at 2 p.m. He will arrive from there to the club for an afternoon of duck hunting. He was Humphrey's guest for hunting there in November 1934. The President will have time for another early round of hunting Saturday before his departure for McChord Air Force Base at Tacoma. He will stay at his brother Edgar's Tacoma home until Monday morning when he will fly to Seattle, arriving at Boeing Air Force Base about 10 a.m. Half an hour later at the Olympia Hotel, Eisenhower is scheduled to address the consultative committee of the Colombo Plan for the economic development of South and Southwest Asia. Shortly after the talk, the President will take off for Washington, arriving back in the capital Monday evening at 10:45 p.m. Arkansas was occupied by United States troops for the first time in 1804, a year after Louisiana Purchase.

New Commissioner of Revenues

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dana Latham, Los Angeles tax attorney, was sworn in today as commissioner of internal revenue. He was appointed Oct. 9 by President Eisenhower to succeed Russell C. Harrington who resigned to return to private business.

Injuries Fatal to Magnolia Man

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—Donald Cook, 23, of Magnolia, died at a hospital here today as a result of injuries suffered in a highway accident near Taylor last Friday. Cook, a Southern State College student, was a passenger in an automobile driven by Charles Ray Cearley, 21, of Magnolia, who also was injured and is in fair condition at a hospital here. Cearley told officers another automobile sideswiped his vehicle while passing it. He said the car did not stop. Cook's survivors include his mother, Mrs. B. Cook of Magnolia; two brothers and two sisters. Funeral arrangements were in complete.

THE HOUSE ON THE BEACH

By E. L. WITHERS
THE STORY: Katherine has escaped from her trap in the chimney by climbing to the roof. Now she is at loss to what to do. Her stepfather, Paul, is trying to kill her because Katherine knows he murdered her mother.

Chapter XVI

One of the voices was Paul's; one was Aunt Millicent's; and the other two belonged to Martha and Ed Ransome. The Ransomes lived in the next house down the beach—a modest cottage; nothing in comparison with this house—but they were nice neighbors. Katherine liked them. Everybody seemed to like them.

Mrs. Ransome said to Aunt Millicent, "How's Katherine?"

"Oh, she's fine."

"Not too upset about her mother? Well, I suppose she's still young enough that she can't quite understand it all."

"As a matter of fact, she does seem upset. She's such a high-strung child, you know. But I have two little girls of my own—"

"Really I didn't know that."

"Oh, yes. So I suppose I'm used to dealing with children."

"I must have been a terrible thing for her to go through," Mrs. Ransome was speaking in a low voice, tactfully hoping that Paul wouldn't hear her.

"Oh, I know! Aunt Millicent's voice had the same lushed, conspiratorial tone. "But I do think she's getting over it all right. She and Paul went swimming together this morning. She doesn't seem to be afraid of the water. And of course she adores Paul."

"Isn't that lucky?"

"And he's so wonderful with her—just as if she were his own daughter—but, of course (more for him, too.)"

Their voices fluttered in the air, but Katherine could not hear their words. She thought: Of course! Why didn't I think of the Ransomes before I can go over to their house. Paul can't get me there. I'll be all right. They might let me stay all night with them—I don't think Aunt Millicent would mind. I'm sure she wouldn't. As soon as I can get her to help me down from here, I'll go over to the Ransomes. And once I get there, I can show them the paper.

She pushed her grimy, burning fingers up under the band of the sleeve, searching for it. She didn't find it at once. The spot where it should have been was empty. She stuck her hand in farther, feeling frantically along her shoulder. And then she touched it. It had slipped farther inside, but it was still safe. She took it out and looked at it, and then put it back inside her sleeve.

She was dimly aware that from the living room beneath her the voices had ceased drifting up to her in their vague waves of sound. Everyone must have gone out on the driveway in front of the house.

At 12 minutes after three she heard the faraway voices in the living room again. Aunt Millicent was saying, "You haven't seen Katherine, have you?"

From inside the living room Paul's voice swam out to her: "No, I haven't seen her."

"I wonder where she could be," She turned around toward the beach, and called, "Katherine..."

The cry sounded very loud in Katherine's ears, huddling into as small a space as possible to avoid detection. But as long as she was hiding, where could she have found a better place than up here behind the chimney? Surely, however carefully they might look for her, they would never think of looking here.

Aunt Millicent was saying, "Well, I guess I'll go on down."

At 20 minutes after four Aunt Millicent came up from the beach. Katherine heard her coming, heard her footsteps in the grass, and the sound she made with her beach towel, slapping it against her legs as she walked. She began nervously herself up to lean around the chimney. But how could she attract her aunt's attention?

"Katherine never did come down to swim."

"Didn't she?"

"I wonder where she could be if she's been around the house?"

"I haven't seen her," Paul's voice was calm, honest, uninterested.

And at that moment the sun went behind a cloud. Katherine wet and aching, felt a sudden chill. It couldn't start to rain while she was stuck up here on the roof! It couldn't! But the sun stayed hidden. She looked up into the sky. It was no longer a solid blazing blue.

She heard Amy step out onto the terrace. She must be looking around now, that anxious expression on her face peering here and there, hoping to catch sight of a skirt flashing among the shrubbery.

Amy's voice drifted up from below, calling, "Katherine..."

At that instant a heavy drop of rain fell on Katherine's arm, and a second later another hit her forehead.

She heard Amy's steps go back into the living room, and her voice saying to Paul, "It's starting to rain and I'm kind of worried about Katherine."

And she felt well, she'll come home, she felt well, she'll come home, she felt well, she'll come home.

Raindrops were falling faster.

Big Pensions for Defeated Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Many members of Congress knocked out of political jobs in Tuesday's elections will get hefty pensions in their years of involuntary retirement.

Under the pension plan through which members can qualify for annuities by paying 6 per cent of their annual $22,500 salary, pensions up to about $18,000 are possible.

Generally speaking, the pension is based on 2 1/2 per cent of the average of a member's five highest congressional pay years, multiplied by his number of years of service, with a top of close to 80 per cent of full pay.

The normal age requirement for retirement is 62 years, with a minimum of 5 years of service required. Members may draw reduced annuities at lower ages if they are retired involuntarily as a result of a few years of service, but they must have had at least 5 years of congressional service.

Added to that 5 years, for pension purposes, is any time a member spent in the armed services or in any other federal job covered by the government pension plan.

The pension provisions apply equally to senators and representatives.

Boiler Explodes in Spa Laundry

FIRST LEAD BOILER

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A boiler in a laundry plant exploded today, blowing away part of the roof of the building which housed the boiler. No one was injured.

The explosion of unknown origin occurred in an auxiliary boiler at the Howlett Linen Co. Live steam filled the area for more than an hour and at first company officials thought the main boiler had now, and each made its own little puddle as it tapped Katherine's skin. Her dress showed little dark wet spots, and where the water met the soot, which was streaked over her arms and legs and her dress, they made a sort of black ashy mud.

Rain ran off her hair, and trickled down her face. Her clothes became wet clear through. (To Be Continued.)

Pork Becomes More Popular This Season

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pork is showing its regular seasonal popularity in the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores these days.

Some of the more numerous items include pork loin and other roasts, baked hams, the small hams known as "picnics", smoked butts, and bacon. Bulk sausage meat, and the more expensive link sausages, also are popular.

Chicken also is cheap now. Prices in the big Delaware-Maryland-Virginia producing belt last month were the lowest for November in more than 10 years.

Look for favorable prices on shortening and margarine, thanks to less expensive food fats and vegetable oils. Supplies for the marketing year started last month are reported up 15 per cent from the 1957-58 year.

Potatoes once again head the best buys among vegetables, with the important fall crop running 12 per cent ahead of last year. Cauliflower, cabbage, brussels sprouts, mushrooms, celery and lettuce—where available from nearby fields—also are outstanding bargains.

Other good bets are iceberg lettuce, southern squash, nearly spinach, peppers from a variety of places, sweet potatoes, radishes, pumpkins, endive and escarole. Tomatoes are in good supply and moderately priced.

Sweet corn is a bit lower, still on the edge of a good buy, while those who fancy radishes and scallops will find them cheap.

Apples abound in the fruit departments. Western grapes and pears also are bargains. California oranges and lemons are fairly good buys, while early season oranges and grapefruit from Florida are in the same category.

CLEAN SWEEP

VALPARAISO, Ind. (AP)—Walter Janowsky was plenty sore when he found thieves had stolen $200 worth of radiators from his auto parts lot, despite the watchdog he had placed on guard. Janowsky couldn't even scold the dog. The burglars had stolen it too.
